Translated by a Society of Gentlemen, and published by John Hay, Esq;

EXTRACT from the PREFACE.

'The Beauty and Elevation of his Style is equal to the Greatness and Glory of the People whose Story he writes: He is every where luminous, intelligible, and agreeable; but, when he enters into important Affairs, he rises even above himself, to treat them with peculiar Attention, and a Kind of Self-delight and Complacency: He renders the Action he describes present; he sets it before the Eyes; he does not relate it, he shews it: He paints the Genius and Characters of Personages he brings upon the Stage after Nature, and puts into their Mouths Word which are always conformable to their Sentiments and different Situations. In short, he has the wonderful Art of keeping his Readers in so pleasing a Suspence by the Variety of Events, and to engage their Curiosity so strangely, that they cannot quit his Relation of an Incident, till it is entirely at an End.'

Lately published the Seventh and Eighth Volumes, to compleat the Six Volumes. A Collection of Voyages and Travels: Consisting of authentic Writers in our own Tongue, which have not been collected before in English; or, have only appeared in Epitome in other Collections: And continued with others of Note that have published Histories, Voyages, Travels, Journals, or Discoveries, in the English, Latin, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, or German Tongues: Relating to any Part of the Continent of Asia, Africa, America, merica, Europe, or the Islands thereof, from the earliest Account, to the present Time: Digested according to the Parts of the World to which they relate, with Historical Introductions to each Account, containing the Lives of their Authors, or what else can be discovered, and is thought necessary to inform and entertain the Reader. With great Variety of useful Charts and Maps, and Cuts of the greatest Curiosities to be found recorded in the Course of this Work, engraven on Copper-Plates. Compiled from the curious and valuable Library of the late Earl of Oxford, Interspersed and illustrated with some general Account of the Discovery of each Country, or an Abstract of its Histories, a Dissertation on its Government, Religion, &c. and with many useful Notes, Original Letters, Papers, Letters Patents, Charters, Acts of Parliament, &c. proper to explain many obscure Passages, which are too often found in other Collections of this Kind. Those Gentlemen that are possessed of only the four first Volumes, of Churchill's Collection of Voyages, may have the Fifth and Sixth, and the above Seventh and Eighth, to compleat their Setts. Particular Care hath been taken, that none of these Voyages are in any other Collection.
